Venezuelan President Hugo Chávez:

On 20 September 2006, Venezuelan President Hugo Chávez delivered a speech to the United Nations General Assembly damning U.S. President George W. Bush, with particular focus on foreign policy.^[1] The speech received international praise due in part to the strong worldwide unpopularity of the policies of the George W. Bush administration. . . .

Speaking one day after Bush addressed the same session of the General Assembly, Chávez announced, "The devil came here yesterday, and it smells of sulfur still today, this table that I am now standing in front of." At that point, Chávez made the sign of the cross, positioned his hands as if praying, and looked briefly upwards as if the invocation of God. He continued "Yesterday, ladies and gentlemen, from this rostrum, the President of the United States, the gentleman to whom I refer as the devil, came here, talking as if he owned the world." Chávez also said that President Bush "...came [to the General Assembly] to share his nostrums to try to preserve the current pattern of domination, exploitation and pillage of the peoples of the world." Chávez began his talk by recommending Noam Chomsky's Hegemony or Survival: "It's an excellent book to help us understand what has been happening in the world throughout the 20th century, and what's happening now, and the greatest threat looming over our planet." Citing Chomsky's book, Chávez explained, "...the American empire is doing all it can to consolidate its system of domination. And we cannot allow them to do that. We cannot allow world dictatorship to be consolidated. -- As of 01/21/2021:

Iran President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad:

Geneva, September 19, 2006 — Tonight’s speech to the UN by Iran’s President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad was crafted in a more moderate tone than other . . . but that did not diminish its potency as a propaganda text aimed at rallying the Muslim world behind his . . . apocalyptic vision, and at winning the support of the Third World in casting the U.S. as a global threat and oppressor.

Mr. Ahmadinejad repeatedly challenged the international role of the U.S., describing it as a nuclear-armed occupier of other lands that is hypocritical on democracy. Still, the speech was wrapped in more diplomatic language, marking a change from the . . . letter he sent to U.S. President George Bush last May. Similarly, the speech included oblique references to “some of the survivors of the Second World War,” but stopped short of previous statements that openly called the Holocaust “a myth.” - - - As of 01/21/2021: <https://unwatch.org/ahmadinejads-un-speech/>

LET THE TRUTH BE KNOWN: The INTERESTS in Historically Black Colleges / Universities (HBCU), is NOT because of the United States Vice President Kamala Harris, it is BECAUSE of the HISTORICAL work, achievements and undertakings of the Chickasaw Tribal Nation's / Utica International Embassy's Prime Minister Vogel Denise Newsome who attended TWO (2) HBCUs [i.e. refusing to be educated at WHITE Institutions] – Mississippi Valley State University (Itta Bena, Mississippi) and receiving her Bachelor of Science Degree (B.S) from the Number 1 HBCU – Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (also known as Florida A&M University – FAMU) in Tallahassee, Florida!
